IN THE MATTER OF: K R OAH No. 10-0385-CSS CSSD No. 00134693

ORDER GRANTING SUMMARY ADJUDICATION

On August 24, 2010, the Child Support Services Division (Division) filed a Motion for Summary Adjudication in this appeal, alleging that no material facts are in issue and that it is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. K R is the obligor in this case, and C F is the custodial parent.

On July 9, 2010, a hearing was held to consider Division's motion. Mr. R participated. Ms. F did not participate.¹ Erinn Brian, Child Support Services Specialist, represented the Child Support Services Division (Division).

This case is Mr. R' appeal following the establishment of his child support order for his child A after the Division issued an Amended Child and Medical Support order on June 11, 2010 and a Denial of Petition for Genetic Testing order on June 8, 2010, but he did not clearly specify what his concerns were.² In its motion the Division argued that Mr. R would have to file an action in court to disestablish Mr. R' paternity of A and that his child support could not be set lower than the minimum of $50 per month.

At formal hearing, Mr. R made it clear that he did not dispute his paternity of A. Mr. R explained that he was concerned about his inability to earn enough even to pay $50 per month in child support while he is in prison. Mr. R was also concerned about the interest that would build up while he is in prison and the possibility that the Division would take action against his drivers' license because he would fall behind in his payments. Ms. R indicated he would initiate the process to request that Ms. F's contact information. ³

³ Recording of Hearing-Testimony of Mr. R.

When one party asks for summary adjudication, a party wishing to have an evidentiary hearing to show that there is a need to have a hearing to prove issues of disputed fact regarding the action being appealed.⁴ The issues raised by Mr. R do not preclude summary adjudication. The Division correctly set Mr. R' support to the minimum amount of $50 per month based on Mr. R' continued lack of income due to his incarceration.⁵ The law requires that child support be set at no less than $50 per month.⁶ The Division is required to charge interest on outstanding child support arrears.⁷ The Division will not be able to take action against Mr. R' drivers' license if he is unable to pay his child support. ⁸

The Division's Motion for Summary Adjudication is GRANTED. This case will not be scheduled for formal hearing.

Child Support Order

The Division's Amended Administrative Child and Medical Support Order issued on June 11, 2010 and the Division's Denial of Petition for Genetic Testing order issued on June 8, 2010 are affirmed.
