Amendment 3
Request for Proposals 17-071M
Organizational Evaluation
Issued April 7, 2017

This amendment addresses questions asked by potential bidders and is for informational purposes only.

Question: Will the proposal be deemed responsive if we mark the cost proposal or references as confidential to prevent sharing of this information after the award?

Response: All information provided with proposals becomes public when the Notice of Intent to Award is issued.

Offerors may request certain information, such as trade secrets or other proprietary data, to be withheld from public disclosure. Requests for confidentiality must be in writing, clearly identify the specific information to be held confidential, and include a statement that describes why the information is a trade secret or otherwise proprietary. The procurement officer must agree in writing with the request for the information to be held confidential. Unless the procurement officer agrees in writing, the information may become public.
