1. Questions and Answers:

Q: I understand that we will need to supply the amplification reagents as well as the post amplification reagents that we are validating, and looking at the cost proposal sheet we will also need to include the CE consumables such as the array, polymer, CE plates, septa and buffers. I was wondering about the other consumables that are used during amplification and CE set-up such as the 1.5ml tubes for normalization and amplification reaction set-up, the pipette tips needed for both pre- and post-laboratory work, gloves, and lab coats?

A: Of the above, the lab will provide gloves and lab coats.

Q: Can I assume that the DNA samples needed for the validation including their quantification values will be provided by the laboratory?

A: Yes.
