The Bid Documents are clarified as follows:

A: There is no hydraulic systems at this facility. The apron cylinders are electric screw jacks (actuators).

- 2. Q: Electrical does not call out specific qualifications. Is there any specific certification required for the electrical contractor as in certified in these types of hydraulic assemblies?. Are we to simply turn the power off so the hydraulic tech can manipulate the system and then turn it back on when ramp is to be re-commissioned?

A: No new electrical work is contemplated under this contract. The Department will furnish an electrical/control systems technician and will be responsible for restoration of power and programming for this system. Reference Plan Notes on Sheet 2.
