Advisory Regarding Violations of the Entry Authorization Guidelines: A person who violates a condition of an authorization is subject to any action available to the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) for enforcement and remedy, including revocation, civil action for forcible entry and detainer, ejectment, trespass, damages, and associated costs, or arrest and prosecution for criminal trespass in the second degree. DNR may seek damages available under civil action, including restoration damages, compensatory damages, and treble damages under AS 09.45.730 or AS 09.45.735, for violations involving injuring or removing trees or shrubs, gathering geotechnical data, or taking mineral resources.

If a person responsible for an unremedied violation or a condition of an authorization applies for a new authorization from DNR under AS 38.05.035, DNR may require the applicant to remedy the violation as a condition of the new authorization, or to begin remediation and provide security to complete the remediation before receiving the new authorization. If a person who applies for a new authorization under AS 38.05.035 has previously been responsible for a violation of a condition of an authorization issued under this chapter, whether remedied or unremedied, that resulted in substantial damage to the environment or to the public, DNR will consider that violation in determining the amount of the security to be furnished and may require the applicant to furnish three times the security that would otherwise be required.

The Regional Manager reserves the right to alter the above conditions before the authorization is issued, in which case Lessee will be so advised. If compliance with these conditions is not achieved, it may be sufficient cause for a monetary penalty for trespass, or the revocation of this authorization immediately and denial of subsequent authorizations.
