SUBMITTED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS:

- Note 6 on Drawing M201 states to provide seismic loops at the building joint between grids F and G. Metraloops or other manufactured "V" loops are typically used for heating or other non-gravity piping. There appears to be several locations where waste and vent piping to the new floor drains will cross through the building joint, New piping from Men's Restroom 128 to the new FD-2 drain in the 2nd floor Fan Room and new Piping from Men's Restroom 209 to the new FD-2 drains near AHU-2 in the 3rd floor Fan Room. The "V" loops will not work in a gravity waste line. What is acceptable to be used for waste and vent lines at the building seismic joint.

For DWV piping crossing building joints, acceptable loops for DWV piping include:
Metraflex DWV Metraloop with no hub connection (+/-4" movement) or equal.
