Questions submitted by a potential offeror and answer from the State:

Question 1: It asks for a business license. Why would a business license be needed when I am unable to practice without a DDS?

Answer: A DDS degree is not a mandatory requirement specified in this Informal Request for Proposal (IRFP). However, all contractors engaging with the State of Alaska must hold an Alaska business license. While an Alaska business license is not required at the time of proposal submission, it will be required upon the award of the contract to the successful offeror.
