Questions and Answers

Question #1:

"Manufacturing dowel baskets in these lengths is cost-prohibitive and cannot be produced & shipped in this required deadline, due to changes of manufacturing equipment required.

These are possible with two smaller baskets installed with correct spacing per joint, see example detail below.

This example is a "10.5ft long basket w/ 8 dowels" per the RFQ, installed in a 12FT long joint, and referred to as 12 billable feet per the dowel manufacturer:

We can complete the current bid schedule provided, but please acknowledge and approve that each joint longer than 5 dowels will require an installed combination of two baskets, spaced appropriately."

Answer #1:

Providing shorter baskets that still meet the required dowel spacing is acceptable. The supplier will need to provide a replacement conversion for each basket length being substituted (i.e. 10.5' baskets replaced with x.x' baskets, etc.).
