Finding Of Emergency

Publish Date: 12/03/99

Archive Date: 01/03/2000

Location: Statewide

Body of Notice:

FINDING OF EMERGENCY

The Alaska Board of Game finds that an emergency exists and the attached regulations are necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, safety or general welfare. The facts constituting the emergency include the following:

Sitka black-tailed deer were introduced to Kodiak Island from southeast Alaska in a series of transplants between 1924 and 1934. The population became established on the entire Kodiak archipelago (Unit 8) by the 1960s. Although objective population data are unavailable, the department estimates that the population contained 80,000 deer by the late 1990s. The deer population management goal for Unit 8 is to maintain a deer population that will sustain an annual harvest of 8,000 deer. The average annual harvest during the past 5 years has been 8,634 deer. Liberal state hunting seasons have allowed use of the harvestable surplus, and have provided for subsistence and recreational uses as well as expanding commercial uses.

This deer population experiences periodic declines due to winter mortality, especially when snows restrict animals to narrow beach fringes or exposed capes. In several of these areas, there is evidence of overbrowsing. Severe winter conditions during 1998-1999 resulted in an estimated mortality rate of 30-50% of the pre-winter population, and the harvest in 1999 is expected to decline proportionally. The proportion of the population that died during the 1998-1999 winter was higher than in previous years, and current hunting regulations would probably impact the productivity and recovery of the population. About 25% of the average annual harvest occurs during December when deer move onto beaches. Although the population would probably survive without intervention, the recovery period may be longer if a significant number of does are killed this season.

ADOPTION ORDER

Under the authority of AS 16.05.255, AS 16.05.258, and under a delegation of authority from the Board of Game under AS 16.05.270, the attached regulations are therefore adopted as emergency regulations to take effect immediately as provided in AS 44.62.180 (3).

This action is not expected to require an increased appropriation.

Land Exchange In Hatcher Pass Between Alaska Hardrock, Inc. And

Publish Date: 12/08/99

Archive Date: 01/10/2000

Location: Statewide

Body of Notice:

The public is invited to comment on the proposed land exchange under AS 38.50 between Alaska Hardrock, Inc., PO Box 2406, Palmer, AK 99645, and the State of Alaska, Department of Natural Resources, for land in the Hatcher

Pass area in Independence and Upper Willow Creek Valleys. Comment must be received by the Division of Parks and Outdoor Recreation at the address below by 4:30 pm on Monday, January 10, 2000.

In this land exchange, the State will receive approximately 118 acres of mineral/subsurface land within and adjacent to Independence Mine State Historical Park (see map). This property has the main mining tunnel of the Independence Mine tunnel network and will become part of Independence Mine State Historic Park. The property has been appraised at $87,000

Alaska Hardrock, Inc. will receive 5 parcels totaling approximately 107 acres in Upper Willow Creek Valley (see map) that has been appraised at $66,500. This will solidify ownership of property for their mining operation.

This proposed land exchange requires a special exception to the Willow Sub-Basin Area Plan and the Hatcher Pass Management Plan. All 225 acres involved in the exchange are proposed to be closed to new mineral entry. The 107 acres going to Alaska Hardrock, Inc. will be reclassified to Reserve Use land. Since the value of the property involved is unequal, this land exchange will be submitted to the Legislature for approval in January, 2000.

Documentation on the proposed exchange, mineral closures, land classification change, and special exception to the plans can be requested from the State Park contacts given below, or can be found on the Internet at www.dnr.state.ak.us/parks. No public meetings are planned at this time. Any person asserting a claim to the property involved should contact one of the offices below.
